E-WISEE LAB

Name of activity	Smart Adult Education, new educational models for the digital age
Description of good practice	The project developed a Web App containing two tools: a Toolkit for Building Pathways to Learning and a Toolkit for Assessing Adult Competencies. These are innovative digital tools that enable educators and teachers to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- enhance their ability to design pathways for personal growth, design engaging learning proposals;- to assess the basic and soft skills of fragile adults by helping them design life paths that improve their levels of social and work inclusion.
Target group involved	Educators and teachers.
The context in which it was tested	The project was managed by a partnership of eight organizations from four European countries: Italy, Spain, Romania, and Greece.
Methodologies used	Innovative digital tools that enable educators and teachers to improve: on the one hand, their ability to design pathways for personal growth, to design engaging training proposals, and, on the other hand, to assess the basic and soft skills of fragile adults, helping them to design life paths that improve their levels of social and work inclusion.
